

You're The One (Overland/Goldsworthy/Jupp/Barnett/Davis)

I down another bottle, try to chase away these blues
I look in my reflection but all I see is you
Surrounded by strangers but they don't know
How I had it all and I let it go
I sit here thinking where did I go wrong
But it's all too little too late, the damage has been done
They say you can't turn back time and now I know
That I had it all and I let it go
I must have been crazy, I must have been blind
I know that I'll regret it for the rest of my life

You're all I need girl, so I keep holding on
You're all I need girl, all I want, you're all I want
Baby you're the one, oh you're the one

They say love can be your saviour, they say love will find a way
But it can leave you helpless, if you let it slip away
So take a little good advice from one who knows
'Cos I had it all and I let it go
Things can only get better, you got to have a little faith
I know you're gonna come back girl
So every night I pray

You're all I need girl, so I keep holding on
You're all I need girl, all I want, you're all I want

I'm reaching out but I can't touch you
I'm out of sight and out of mind
They say time's the only healer
In a world full of lonely hearts just waiting in line
Waiting in line

You're all I need girl, so I keep holding on
You're all I need girl, all I want, you're all I want
You're all I need girl, so I keep holding on
You're all I need girl, all I want, all I want
Baby you're the one
Baby you're the one
All I want
Baby you're the one
You're the one
All I want
You're all I need
You're the one
